

Sick Girl – Vaccine

Vaccine is the new artist name of the chinese photographer formarly known as bing nv (sick girl in chinese) She adepted her nem name in 2022 after her release from jail, following after the publication of her latest book.

In her latest book, we go back in the past of the photographer, struggling with life and survival in her early years, to a ripe personality who keep exploring under the surface of appearances without compromises, driving her through the four corners of China, and more far abroad also and even in jail...

Definitely a human being misfitting the system, a free soul, with a style impossible to label and an eye seeing and documenting the emotional mutation of the world.
